Do you think that young people currently have a strong voice in the Parish? Yes – via the school Not via the Parish Council except through the use of the playing field. There is a danger of the Parish not being a good community for young people.	Ensure that the village does not become a retirement village but a vibrant community to include the young. Children should be put first before pets.
Who should be responsible to ensure young people have a strong voice in the Parish? Parish Council? Cornwall Council? Community Groups/ Local School? Parents? Young People themselves? All should be responsible, community is about listening to young and old and working together. Parents School	Set up a Youth Council at some point through the Parish Council. Church – Sunday School?
How can we ensure that young people have a voice in the future? Through a meeting with parents. We must be a Parish which is positive and shaped around children Make the Parish a great place to grow up in Future developments should be family homes with gardens	Resolve to be a child friendly community. List key child friendly assets Look at employment opportunities for young teenagers
How can we get young people DIRECTLY involved in shaping our Neighbourhood Plan? School engagement Scout Movement Letter box drop with questionnaire specifically targeted to young people, with a prize draw for completed entries to attract as many responses as possible and ensure their voice is heard.	Have a parent meeting to see what their children would like to see Intentional Family Engagement Questionnaire targeted at Young People specifically. School project ‘Shaping our Community’ to get involvement in NDP Pictures, short essays and encourage writing a letter to the NDP Steering Group stating what they would like to see happen in their community. Use of the Scout Field for a ‘Family’ event to promote engagement.

Young people and education

How can we improve representation, facilities & education for young people?

Working Party Meeting 19th June 2018:

Looked at possible 3 thoughtful questions for the next Survey:

1. What are the existing facilities for Young People and Education?
2. What do people want?

Action: need to identify the key assets that serve young people and education and begin to shape the village around them.
