

How to contact Nottinghamshire Police

By telephone, you can use either 101 or 999.

Both numbers go through to the same Force control rooms, which are based at the Force headquarters, Sherwood Lodge and Mansfield. (999 calls are answered more quickly).

There are no longer control rooms based at local stations, such as West Bridgford.

Use the 999 emergency number when:

- Life is in danger or someone is seriously injured;
- Someone is using violence or there is an immediate threat of violence;
- A crime is in progress or an offender has just been disturbed at the scene;
- Serious damage is being or could be caused to property;
- There is a road traffic collision in which someone is hurt or there is a danger to other road users;
- An immediate police response is necessary.

Call the 101 non-emergency number to:

- Report a crime or criminal damage;
- Report a minor road traffic collision;
- Contact your Neighbourhood Policing Team;
- Ask about lost property;
- Give us information about a crime or an offender;
- Get information or advice about a policing issue.

For example, you should call 101 if:

- Your car has been stolen;
- Your property has been damaged;
- You suspect drug use or dealing in your neighbourhood.

All calls to the Police are graded irrespective of which number you use to ring, and the appropriate resource is tasked to deal with the report made.
